Purpose: The training of youth leaders is a vital ingredient needed to develop a high-performing Scouting unit and foster the personal growth of its youth members. The Boy Scouts of America has developed a six day training experience, the National Youth Leadership Training Conference (NYLT), that has proven valuable in the training of youth leaders. The conference will stress the skills of leadership that will make youth leaders more effective in their unit leadership positions.

The conference follows a syllabus developed by the National Council of the BSA and is conducted by the Greater New York Councils with their approval.

Perhaps more importantly, participants will acquire life skills that will enable them to become successful leaders in any organization. This conference will provide participants with the tools they need to develop their leadership potential. The skills learned will facilitate immensely the unit leader's leadership development and directly benefit the unit's program.

Qualifications: Any Boy Scout who participates in the conference must be at least a First Class Scout and 13 years old at the start of the conference. Any Venturer or Sea Scout must be at least 14 years old. All participants must be under age 18. Participants may only attend upon the recommendation and approval of their Unit Leader, who must feel that the youth member is mature and is currently filling a unit leadership position or is likely to assume a leadership position in the near future. As the conference will be conducted at camp, it is important that all participants have camping, cooking and hiking skills.

Conference Leadership: The conference will be led by Course Director Brenda Gazinski and conducted by an excellent group of experienced youth and adult trainers.

Unit leaders are encouraged to discuss this unique youth leadership training opportunity with qualified unit members and their parents, and with members of the unit committee.

So we can effectively prepare for the conference, it is very important that all applications be submitted to the GNYC office with full payment by August 15.

NYLT FACTS

What is the Conference? An exciting, action packed leadership development program designed to help councils and their units to provide youth members with leadership skills and experiences they can apply in their home units or in any situation demanding leadership of self and others.

What is the Purpose? Scouting recognizes that unit leaders have the responsibility of training their own youth leaders. The purpose of the National Youth Leadership Training Conference is not to assume the leader's role, but to help support it.

NYLT integrates the best of modern leadership theory with the traditional strengths of the Scouting experience. Through activities, presentations, challenges, discussions and audio-visual support, NYLT participants will be engaged in a unified approach to leadership that will give them the skills and confidence to lead well.

The six day conference centers around the concepts of what a leader must BE, what a leader must KNOW, and what a leader must DO. The key elements are then taught with a clear focus on "how to". The leadership skills come alive during the conference as teams go on a "Quest for the Meaning of Leadership".

Content is delivered in a group and team outdoor setting with an emphasis on immediate application of learning in a fun environment. Interconnecting concepts and work processes are introduced early, built upon, and reinforced by use of memory aids, which allow participants to quickly understand and employ the leadership skills.

Participants will: Have fun, make friends, learn how to work with adult leaders, share ideas for improving their home units, learn how to better perform in their own leadership position and develop goals for further improving their leadership skills.
